Minimalist Jazz music and the Black Power of all with Sirohi

In the process of Sirohi’s rendition of in fact jazz music and some dialectics then comes the higher spiritual love for Martin Luther King and Malcolm X and even Black Panthers which has a long history of what is called civil movements for civil liberties and freedoms.

Nowadays we are all following the process of Polish Solidarity and their ruined lives earlier, but we are all happy because the problematic resembles – black power protests, jazz and dialectics with a lot of black talking and commentaries which go with higher as the way we all go.

I mean a problematic will resemble this on our recent journeys. A history

Editorial Piece on Free Tape Recorders

The long history of costing in this newspaper then is about judging its free use-value to be so protesting and so black.

Sounding like recorders and news recorders then is a old history to be historical.

I also mean we are on tapes and cassettes and now musical rap.

In theory then this process is what Aijaz Ahmad calls – deconstruction but with the totalization process.

“I mean keep totalizing, and be really into the praxis stuff we do here.” – Aijaz.

From Grundrisse and Activism to our own perception

And so our own perception becomes important. How the perception of CPSU these days is about living in line with Sirohi more than the people or the poor. Imagine that they say, we live lives which are always following the people as in fact divined by a scholar.

It means remain poor and be with the fresh sense of the roads and the poor.

That all to French humility to be Beckettian which then is a Smooth Hurricane and such a smooth variable.

A lot of drama and cinema for black people how we are then admiring the process of Soviet Union with this process of being cool.

Glad to be cool.

All to free power, black soul and Charles Mingus – Mingus Ah Uhm. And Coltrane that smooth variable.

Cinema unfolds.

Polish news stands used to talk a lot about the black people.

A lot of intellectualizing is how we live free.
